

Image not found or type unknown

The GYLA's constitutional claims filed with the aim of changing the Code of Administrative Offenses

The GYLA is conducting strategic litigation in the Constitutional Court in order to change the unconstitutional use of the Code of Administrative Offenses of Georgia. As of now, the GYLA has filed five claims in the Constitutional Court.

Please find attached below a full information.