

NGOs Evaluated First Hundred Days of the Government

On February 18, 2013, Georgian Young Lawyers' Association, Transparency International – Georgia and the International Society for Fair Elections and Democracy held a press conference about “100 Days in Government: Rule of Law and Human Rights”.

At the press-conference the organizations discussed and evaluated reforms initiated by the new government, as well as problems identified in the field of human rights.

Please view the attached file.